

ARTICLE APPEARED
ON PAGE 2

HUMAN EVENTS
20 February 1982

Capital Briefs

★ The Senate Intelligence Committee is trying to determine if Soviet agents have infiltrated the watchdog General Accounting Office. Sen Bill Roth (R-Del.) has asked the committee to determine how a Soviet "diplomat," Vladimir Kvasov, was able to ask GAO for classified military reports by their classified code numbers. Roth, a member of the intelligence committee, said some of the reports requested by the Russian—dealing with Pentagon weapons systems and the readiness of U.S. forces—had not even been printed at the time.